▶ SOCIAL INTRANET

Better internal network thanks to social intranet with Confluence

Knowledge is power, sharing knowledge makes your employees more powerful. An intranet as a knowledge base, complemented by familiar functions from social media, not only ensures better teamwork, but can also improve the cooperation throughout your whole enterprise. Confluence offers all necessary functions to build up a structured information architecture. It allows your employees to provide and edit information to create a knowledge base. Through communication functions like sharing and commenting, you can optimize the cooperation within your teams, departments and throughout your enterprise. Confluence is suitable not only for building up a business wiki but can also be expanded to become a fully operative intranet thanks to its integration capability with important business software.
